My dear Chakravarti,

Your D.O. of the 10th instant.

The Madras Government have empowered the Secretaries to Government, Heads of Departments, Collectors of Districts and Inspectors of Schools to purchase dictionaries for their office use, from the contingent grants at their disposal, but no such power has been delegated to ~~the~~ Superintending and Executive Engineers.

Yours sincerely,

K. L. Datta

States that the Madras Govt have empowered the Secretaries to Govt, Heads of Depts Collectors of Dts and Inspectors of Schools to purchase dictionaries for their Office use from the Contingent Grants at their disposal but no such power has been delegated to Superintending and Executive Engineers.

1a) Submitted with reference to para 6. Supra.

It is for orders if the draft is to be amended by dropping from it the Supdtg & Executive Engineers from the list of Officers empowered to purchase dictionaries.

Ul.21 SW 18/7/14 24/7 15) We draft may accordingly be amended. We are generally in favour of allowing Executive Engrs also power to purchase dictionaries. This is a very small matter.

Forwarded to the Financial Secretary to Government as directed by the Dewan.

2. I am of opinion that among the officers entitled to a supply of dictionaries at Government cost should be included the Executive Engineers of Divisions also. If Deputy Commissioners are - - - entitled to get them, there is no reason why - - - Executive Engineers should not. In the past they have been supplied with such books and consequently some of these officers have got the books already.
